

THE HIGH PRICE OF A SIMPLE DISTRACTION

Joshua 7

Welcome to Concord today on what is indeed a very busy day! A quick look at today's schedule shows that our 6:00 PM worship service has actually been moved up to 4:00 PM. This has been done to accommodate those who are helping with the Chonda Pierce event, as well as those who just want to go to church. The 4:00 PM service will be in the Blue Room.

The 7:00 PM Chonda Pierce event is a sellout! No tickets remain. We have a virtual army of volunteers who will work hard to make every guest feel welcome. Thank you, dear people, who will be servants today and in some cases will give up your opportunity to hear Chonda.

This morning we are continuing our series called "Fatal Distractions". Our text is found in Joshua 7 and our focal distracted person is Achan. Achan is not known by many modern day believers, but it is time to familiarize ourselves. He was distracted by some silver, gold and the latest fashion. Everyone paid a high price for his simple distraction.

Allow me to make some observations from the life of Achan.

- I. We are _____ distracted.
- II. Every distraction follows a _____. (7:21)
 - I _____.
 - I _____.
 - I _____.
 - I _____.
- III. Distractions have a _____.
- IV. There is a way to _____.

These are the truths we are going to consider this morning. I pray that God will bring all of us to a new point of focus on Him. May you be blessed with a great day.

Your Servant in Christ,
Bro. Monte
